

To whom it may concern with regards to Choice Office Furniture

We were moving into new offices and needed to furnish the whole place. Having done some research we identified 3 potential suppliers.

Fortunately the first we went to was Choice Office Furniture where we were helped by Trish Mathieson.

We explained what we wanted in our poorly thought out way and Trish just led us through the process, making helpful, and often cost saving, suggestions along the way. In under an hour we had reviewed all the options and selected what we needed.

We explained to Trish that we had 2 other places to visit before making our decision. We went outside and quickly decided that the likelihood of us getting the same level of service anywhere else, where our satisfaction as customers was the primary concern, was low to non-existent. So we saved several hours effort and just placed our order with Trish.

Just as promised the furniture was delivered on the day we took possession. The workers that Trish uses to install furniture clearly follow her lead in terms of both efficiency and being a pleasure to deal with. Within a day we were fully operational. Trish followed up the next day and has regularly kept in touch, making several helpful suggestions to help us fine tune our working environment.

During this whole office move I was surprised just how hard vendors were to deal with and organize. With Trish and Choice Furniture there were no such problems and I can recommend them without reservation.
